

WORKSHOP
Get it in Writing:
Developing Your Lake Management Plan

Saturday, February 24th
9:00 AM – 12:00 PM
Lake County Permit Center
500 W. Winchester Rd, Libertyville, IL 60048

At your fingertips, you probably have all sorts of plans: financial plans, health care plans, landscaping plans...but does your lake have a plan? And, not just an “in your head” kind of plan, but a written document in an organized format that incorporates lake use and management goals with actionable objectives to address problems? Start generating that lake management plan today!

At this workshop, Lake County Health Department and Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning staff will explain the types of information needed to make local lake management decisions, offer a format for summarizing information and debating alternatives, and provide a local example of community commitment to a lake.

Workshop topics will include:

- Developing goals and objectives for your lake management plan.
- Assessing lake user needs and identifying problems and concerns.
- Gathering lake and watershed data and information.
- Considering options and making decisions.
- Hands on use of tools and worksheets (provided!) to develop an individualized management plan for your lake.
- Grant information available from Lake County Stormwater Management Commission
- Ask the experts – come with your specific lake management questions! There will be time for you to work on your own plan and ask questions.

The workshop is intended for homeowner associations, lake associations, lake managers, concerned lake citizens – anyone who cares about lakes and wants to make the best lake management decisions. This workshop is sponsored by the Illinois Lake Management Association.

Space is limited. Pre-registration is required by emailing abartolai2@lakecountyil.gov or calling 847-377-8009 by February 21st, 2018.
